

DURABLE FOAMS

Inclusion compounds as a novel foaming agent for plastic foams

We want to revolutionize the elastomer foam processing industry by introducing a novel foaming method based on an eco-friendly foaming agent. We are in the process of fundraising and building a team, looking for engaged entrepreneurial chemical engineers, best with a polymer or material science background. The collaboration period can last from 6 months to 2 years with a possible prolongation. We are based at ETH Zurich.

PATENT 2019